

Care for Our Common Home as a Challenge for Bioethics
11th PPHF International Summer School
(March 8-13, 2027, Pécs, Hungary)

Van Rensselaer Potter famously conceptualized bioethics as a "bridge to the future," connecting biological science with human ethics to ensure the survival and well-being of our shared planet. Building on this vision, how can we address the urgent ecological and moral crises of our time? At our summer school, you will have the opportunity to reflect on these vital questions, and you can explore how our current choices impact the future of our shared environment and all living beings, discover the ethical boundaries and responsibilities that bind us to future generations, examine how ecological crises, sustainability, and the protection of nature intersect with medical and environmental ethics, and understand how we can care for our common home in a rapidly changing world.

Come and participate in the 11th PPHF International Summer School, from March 8 to 13, 2027, at the Theological College of Pécs, Hungary!

Students and teachers from Central Europe can apply through www.ceepus.info until November 1, 2026.

Network ID: AT-0502-17-2627 - Bioethics: Crossing Disciplinary Boundaries

Students:

Mobility Type: Short Term Intensive Courses

Period: 08.03.2027 - 13.03.2027.

In addition to your personal motivation, the motivation field must include the title, duration, location and name of the organiser of the course.

We have quotas for a total of 36 students, which are not distributed in advance between the network members.

Teachers:

Mobility Type: Teacher

Period: 08.03.2027 - 12.03.2027.

We have teacher quotas with the following numbers for the Summer School:

- Palacký University Olomouc – 1 teacher
- Ss. Cyril und Methodius University in Skopje – 1 teacher
- University of Warmia and Mazury in Olsztyn – 1 teacher
- University of Opole – 1 teacher
- University of Ljubljana – 1 teacher

We hope to have some extra spots available - please feel free to apply!